FOOTBALLS COLLECTION

TECHNOLOGY WITHIN THE BALL

The ball construction is developed to promote more consistent air pressure and keep its shape. Debossed grooves and 3D inks (these are engineered to dry at levels and locations that vary by millimeters) rise as they dry during the printing process further improve aerodynamics and the feel of the ball. Secondary and tertiary colors serve to catch players' eyes and help them to identify spin, speed and trajectory as quickly as possible.

- 1 Perfect cushioned-cover material for improved control.
- 2 Thermo-bonding joined technology for durability.
- 3 Layered construction performing in all conditions.
- 4 Optimized valve for air retention to maintain optimum shape.

SUITABLE FOR ALL USES

Elite

tempo Elite balls are approved with the ultimate standard of football quality in the world. The FIFA Quality Pro tests are to assess footballs under laboratory conditions, subjecting them to even tougher conditions than they will probably ever endure during a normal game. Elite balls are eligible for 2 years warranty on seam, roundness & manufacturing defects.

Pro

tempo Pro balls are certified with the FIFA Basic Standards, insuring a professional level of quality and performance. Pro balls are eligible for 1 year warranty on seam, roundness and manufacturing defects.

Team

We strive to develop our products through implementing latest technology. tempo Performance is our standard to insure quality in all respects. Team balls are eligible for 1 year warranty on seam, roundness & manufacturing defects.

FULFILLING ULTIMATE STANDARDS

In order to attain the highest possible FIFA quality mark, a football must successfully pass the six tests for a FIFA QUALITY PRO mark under even more demanding conditions. The constancy of the shape and size of the ball is Examined in a seventh test. The ball is fired against a steel plate 2,000 times at 50 kilometres per hour. The ball passes the test only if all of its seams and air valves remain unscathed and any loss of pressure and changes in circumference and roundness are negligible.

The FIFA Quality Pro tests are to assess footballs under laboratory conditions, subjecting them to even tougher conditions than they will probably ever endure during a normal game. Even the slightest flaw in the ball will influence the way it flies through the air and rolls along the ground, something that could change the result of the game. Only ball that pass the tests receive the FIFA Quality marks. The Laws of the Game demand that all balls used for international matches organized by FIFA or the confederations bear one of the FIFA quality marks or the "IMS International Matchball Standard" mark.
